

Garrett Noble, ASLA

Candidate for Tampa Bay Section Chair

Goals

As the section chair, I would like to follow the precedent set before me by continuing to expand our knowledge base as professionals educationally and experientially. This can be accomplished through several different avenues including social events, presentations from manufacturers and others in the industry, site visits of built works, etc. Along with these practical ways, we can learn from each other as we all provide such a diverse background through our personal and professional experiences. It's truly a small world out there and getting to know each other better will benefit us all in many ways now and in the future.

Biography

Growing up in a suburb of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, I always had a passion for the outdoors. I enjoyed being immersed in nature, never being one to spend much time indoors. I also had a passion for drawing as a kid, and little did I know, those two passions would end up shaping into my career in landscape architecture. Early on in college, I wasn't entirely sure what vocation I wanted to pursue. I had started a lawn care and landscaping business in high school and I really enjoyed that work, so after searching the internet for related degrees, I discovered landscape architecture and realized it was the perfect combination of the things I was passionate about.

Throughout college, one of the particular areas of landscape architecture that I became very interested in was land planning and community design. I loved the analysis and broad thinking that community planning took, and I knew I wanted to be a part of creating places where people could thrive. Fast forward a few years; I graduated college, met my soon-to-be wife shortly after, and then got married in 2016. A few months later, we decided to pick up and leave the only place I had ever known. Tampa became home for us in the summer of 2017 and we have truly loved every minute of it. I am currently working for Clearview Land Design, where I have the privilege of bringing that vision from college to life. I get to work on community design projects large and small, from the zoning and land planning efforts all the way down to the construction details. I'm excited for the future of the Tampa Bay area and feel very blessed to be a part of the vision of that future.
